

Electronic Event Accounting System for ticket providers

eVa is the only event accounting system on the market that perfectly supports the connection between the ticket system, event accounting and bookkeeping.

The system was developed in close cooperation with a ticket company and represents the workflows in the area of event-accounting electronically. eVa thus makes for substantial time and cost savings in the event-accounting and accounting.

eVa in use

Through deployment of eVa many work processes are supported digitally. The expansive rights and role concept for user groups and departments is freely configurable. eVa automatically takes over all the accounting-relevant data for event accounting from the linked ticket system. The latest master data of the organizer is accessed and additional expenses on the basis of charges and payments on account can be captured, based on special arrangements made by the organizers. eVa now has all the data it needs to create the account, to print it immediately and to send it. Thereby different levels of detail can be defined. Account cancellations, as well as the creation of subsequent accounts and the generation of joint bills are easily possible. For accounting fees and fee types are applied and maintained. The period based account assignment in eVa and the handover to the financial accounting is standard, as well as the support of cashless payment transactions. eVa provides reports and statistics for the management on various topics, for instance events still to be processed, accounting period, organizers and fees.

„eVa has closed the gap between ticket system, accounting and organizer accounting optimally. A smooth work flow with cost and time savings is the positive result.“

Stephan Rusch (CEO of München Ticket GmbH)
